Council Moves To Rezone 2 City Districts

To Allow Apartments, Duplexes in West End of City

Settling, at least temporarily, the problem of rezoning Solano Avenue from Madison to Pierce Streets to second residential property, the City Council moved last Monday night to reclassify the district in one of the most interesting and best attended sessions to date.

The move, suggested by the Planning and Zoning Commission, was approved by four of the councilmen, only Councilman George Batchelder opposing it. His reason, he said, was that the number of protests too closely approximated the legal number, 20 per cent, to permit him to sanction the change.

The rezoning will permit the construction of duplexes and apartment houses in the zone extending 100 feet each way from Solano Avenue between the stated streets. Opposition by property owners in the affected district has been due to the feeling that this would lead to a lessening of property values eventually, a fact denied by the proponents.

OFFERS OPPOSITION

The second matter of rezoning, that of changing property fronting on the Santa Fe tracks north of Brighton Avenue to second residential from light industrial, was bitterly opposed by Jack Sola, operator of a woodyard in that section. Brought up by other property owners "to protect their interests in the future," the measure was unanimously passed by the council.

Permission was granted the Recreation Department to move two portable structures to City property on Masonic Avenue for its use. The buildings were supplied by the School Board. Necessary work is to be supplied by the WPA, it was declared by Superintendent Thomas L. Farnsworth.

City Attorney C. N. Lavers was instructed to draw up a contract between the City and the Times so that the latter may supply the legal advertising during the next fiscal year.

GRANTS LEAVE

The council also voted to allow Police Officer Harry Stevenson two weeks leave of absence during the latter part of July to attend the State college at San Jose where a course in police work is being given. One week's salary will be paid him, it was decided.

Repairing of Assistant Fire Chief John Riley's private auto, damaged last week in an accident, will cost $325 the council learned. His application to have the City pay the bill was referred to City Attorney Lavers.

Mother, Child Periled in Hit And Run Crash

Following a crash Sunday afternoon at Kains and Washington Avenues, local police were seeking the alleged hit-run driver who was involved in the accident which severely damaged a car driven by Mrs. Bevel E. Perry, 1118 Kains Avenue.

According to Mrs. Perry's report to police, she was driving north on Kains Avenue and was making a left hand turn into Washington when the asserted hit-runner crashed into her auto badly damaging the left front of her vehicle.

Due to excitement and fear lest her 13-month-old son, John, should have been injured in the collision, Mrs. Perry did not obtain the license number of the other car, she explained. Neither mother nor child were injured.

G. Staton Hurt In Auto Mishap

Injured last week when his car skidded and overturned, George Staton, of 742 Neilson Street, was transferred Tuesday morning to Humboldt Hospital. Staton incurred a fractured pelvis and other injuries in the accident.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Staton at the time of the accident, which occurred near Weed as the pair were driving to visit their sons in Seattle. Mrs. Staton suffered minor injuries.

Argus Spokesman Is Acquired by Enterprise Firm

July 2 marked the last issue of the Argus Spokesman by Ralph L. Brock, it was revealed yesterday afternoon as the current number of the Enterprise made its appearance with a front page announcement telling that it had taken over the former paper.

Beginning with this week's issue the Argus Spokesman will be published by the Courier Press in Berkeley under the editorship of G. J. Patty, and is merged with the Enterprise to appear each Thursday.

By this move the second oldest paper in Albany has virtually disappeared. Started by the late George Ryan as the Argus, the periodical came into the hands of Brock and was merged with the Spokesman.

Minor Crash On New Road Brings Charge

As a result of the first accident on the newly opened East Shore Highway section in Albany, Rexford McGee of 824 Jackson Street will appear before Judge Louis J. Hardie on July 14, charged with reckless driving.

The accident occurred Sunday evening as the car driven by McGee crashed into one driven by Ernest Prosser, 2316 Sacramento Street, Berkeley, hurling the latter to the pavement. His passenger, Miss Alberta Paterson, also of Berkeley, was unhurt.

After being informed by Prosser that he was unhurt, McGee took him and Miss Paterson to the 900 block on Solano Avenue, left them, and proceeded to his home. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Manley Gough, 1147 Solano Avenue.

Miss Paterson called local police when she noticed that her companion had a severe bump on his head. Officer Stanley Williams, responding, took the pair to Humboldt Hospital where an examination disclosed that the injury was not serious.

Officer Williams, with Miss Paterson, later drove to McGee's home on Jackson Street, picked him up and turned him over to the State Highway Patrol. Taken to the patrol headquarters on the Bay Bridge, he was charged by the State officers with reckless driving.

Suffering from a fractured left leg Mrs. Henry Schoonhoven is now confined to her home at 624 Talbot Avenue. The injury occurred last Saturday as she slipped and fell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joortz Naninniga, 670 Kains Avenue, while visiting the latter.

SCOUTS, AIDES OF TROOP 45 RETURN SUNDAY FROM CAMP

After enjoying one of their finest outings during a two-week stay in Yosemite National Park, members of Albany's Boy Scout Troop No. 45 will arrive back in this city Sunday afternoon or evening, according to word received by the Times from Scoutmaster George Rutan, Sr.

The troop, sponsored by Albany High Dads Club, left here on Saturday, June 26, for its annual vacation trip to the beautiful scenic valley. Also in charge were Dr. E. A. Coe, troop committee chairman, and George Johansen, committee man.

On Sunday, June 27, the scouts and leaders attended outdoor church services at Camp No. 14, then hiked to Indian Caves, Mirror Lake, Happy Isles and the State Fish Hatchery.

Next evening three of the scouts, Tom Donato, Jim McSorley and Ted Tronoff, took part in the campfire program at the same camp and were received with applause by the spectators.

Hikes have since been made to Yosemite Falls, Glacier Point, Indian Village, Lakes Merced and Babcock, and many other points and places of interest and splendor, according to Rutan. In addition there have been a number of swim-

Women Meet to Discuss Picnic

Members of the Women's Breakfast Club, ever active in planning the annual picnic of the two groups, will meet on Sunday morning at Wimpys, tells Dr. Jane Paxson, president.

The picnic is scheduled for next month and will be one of the most successful affairs ever held, Dr. Paxson prophesied. Those who have attended past outings will realize that this is a rare promise.

The women will gather at 9:30 a. m. at the popular dining room on San Pablo Avenue at Buchanan Street.

Federal Aid Brings Camp

Through Federal arrangements recently completed, the Recreation Department is able to announce that it has secured the use of Russelman Camp for underprivileged children of the City, reads an announcement this week.

The camp site is located near Mt. Diablo, 35 miles from Albany, and will provide an ideal vacation spot for youngsters who would otherwise be unable to afford summer outings, says the department.

Federal aid has provided mattresses, coats, cooking utensils and part of the food, making it possible to supply a week's vacation to local children at the reasonable price of $2.50. For this small sum the campers will also enjoy swimming, hiking, games, nature study and many other activities.

BALANCED MEALS

Balanced meals for healthy appetites will be provided under strict supervision. Seven directors, one supervisor and one life guard will be on duty at all times.

Children will be required to carry on the simpler tasks, such as washing dishes, etc. As about 60 children are expected to attend this rule will be strictly adhered to.

Parents who wish to secure reservations for their children are advised to communicate with the department at 1200 Solano Avenue immediately. The camp will open on Monday, July 19.

Each child is asked to bring his own towels, soap, bathing suit and three blanket, and to wear his old clothes.

Merchants Will Face S. F. Team

The next opponent of the Albany Merchants will be the Fidelity Hams, according to Manager Jake Nora. The game is set for 2:30 p. m. at University Park.

The visitors are under the management of Gene Valla, former Seal star, and have acquired a reputation as a hard team to defeat, the manager of the local baseball nine said.

El Cerrito Council Passes "Anti-Litter" Ordinance To Protect Home Owners

Determined to end the alleged nuisance caused by the promiscuous distribution of all types of advertising matter, the city council of El Cerrito moved last Tuesday night to protect the home owners and merchants of that city.

Adopted was a rigid "anti-litter" ordinance which absolutely prohibits the distribution in any manner except by mail of advertising handbills circulars, dodgers, samples, etc. The measure, patterned after Richmond's, was passed by a 3-2 vote. Favoring it were Councilmen Louis Navellier, Hans Nissen and Ralph Beck. Its adoption was opposed by Mayor W. F. Huber and Councilman Peter Larson.

Crowded council chambers saw representatives of circular and distributing firms vainly trying to halt passage of the protective legislation.

The Oakland Shopping News through Merle Cooley maintained that more than 600 El Cerrito residents desired that the advertising sheet be continued. Asked to present an actual signed request, Cooley caused no little amusement when he offered a card signed by a resident of Richmond.

"NAME" DISCOVERED

Printed cards were passed out by the firm's carrier boys for El Cerritos to sign, he related. At the close of the meeting more humor was injected as a card bearing the name of Councilman Nissen, one of the law's proponents, was discovered in the lot. As was readily found, the signature was not that of the councilman but obviously that of the youth who had passed it out.

Further opposition was expressed by Theodore Kapkan of the Broadside Service, distributing agency. It was he who, fighting the Richmond ordinance, circulated a petition asking for a special election recently. Voters there showed definitely that they desired to continue the law, the number opposing it being less, actually than the number of petitioners.

Albany's neighboring city passed its "anti-litter" law at the request of merchants who finally came to the conclusion that it would be better to curtail their own circulars, etc., and gain protection from ruinous outside competition. Residents, tired of seeing them, porches and yards littered, also sought relief.

"What are you trying to do, put up a fence around this 'hamburger stand'?" queried Councilman Larson before the council moved to adopt the measure.

LAW HAS "TEETH"

Unlike the ordinance that Albany recently passed, El Cerrito's law has "teeth" to provide a measure of protection for householders who have grown tired of the asserted nuisance.

A suggestion by Cooley that those who didn't want the circulars and dodgers should be obliged to put up signs to the effect, was emphatically discarded by the council. Replied Councilman Beck, in part: "El Cerrito is essentially a residential city—should a property owner have to put up a sign to keep people from littering his home or yard? If this list of yours be genuine apparently there are quite a few people out here that want your Shopping News. As you seem quite anxious to see that these persons are served, I think you two ought to get together some way. I suggest the mails!" Cooley had no reply.

Protection is afforded El Cerrito merchants and residents by the following ordinance, secured from City Clerk Jack Stoddard: It reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to distribute or throw upon any private yard, lawn or driveway, or upon any sidewalk, or upon any porch or steps of any residence, or upon or in any auto, or upon any vacant property, in the City of El Cerrito, any advertising sample, handbill, dodger, circular, booklet, or other notice of commercial or political or religious advertising, provided that nothing herein contained shall prohibit the distribution and delivery of any newspaper which is capable of being entered as second class matter under the provisions of the United States Post Office regulations of March 3, 1879, and other United States statutes.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $50, or by imprisonment in the city jail or in the county jail of the County of Contra Costa not exceeding 6 months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

T. DeBiasi Is Now Godfather

Proudly taking the role of godfather at the christening July 4, of Gerald Lee Gallo, seven months old, was Tony De Biasi, well known restaurant man of Albany, he revealed.

In company with his wife and daughter, Vincensina, and four couples from Richmond, the local man journeyed north to Red Bluff on the holiday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallo of that city.

After the ceremonies a celebratory dinner was held, said De Biasi, and dancing on an outdoor floor completed the enjoyable occasion. Mr. and Mrs. DeBiasi returned Sunday evening. Miss DeBiasi remained in Red Bluff for a two weeks vacation period.

Men's Breakfast Club Holds Meet Sunday Morning

Although plans for their annual picnic with the Women's club will take up part of their meeting, members of the Men's Breakfast Club are depending on Charles (Chuck) Terry to provide the entertainment features next Sunday morning at De Biasi's Italian Restaurant. Terry has refused to reveal his plans.

The meeting will be called to order at 9:30 a. m. by President Joe Villa. Selection of a site for the picnic and other important business will be taken up by the membership, announced Villa. He asked that all members be present.

Court Levies $50 Fine on 'Wild' Driver

The story of a wild chase at 75 miles per hour along San Pablo Avenue was related in court here Wednesday night as Officer Harry Stevenson took the stand against Herbert C. Basford of Richmond, charged with reckless driving on the night of May 6.

His pursuit of Basford began at the Albany-Berkeley line, told the officer, and continued until the speeder crashed into a house on Panhandle Boulevard in El Cerrito.

"I don't remember a thing about the affair," was the plea of the Richmond man as he told of having a drink of beer in Oakland just before driving out here. The drink was "doped," he assured Judge Louis Hardie, and he felt that someone had the intention of "rolling" him.

After listening to both versions, the jurist announced a fine of $50 for the offense. "You were rolling along pretty fast yourself," was the judicial comment. Basford paid his fine.

FIRST VIOLATOR

To John Sindisch, Jr., of Richmond went the dubious honor of being the first person arrested by State police on the Albany section of the East Shore Highway. He was charged with failure to observe a boulevard stop sign by State Officer John Meadows and paid a fine of $2.

Petty theft charges growing out of the alleged theft on Tuesday night of a $15 necklace brought a County Jail sentence for George J. Lopez, 860 Twentieth Street, Oakland. The charge was filed by Mrs. Louis Griffing of 943 San Pablo Avenue who claimed that Lopez stole the jewelry from her home at that address.

Pleading that he had never been in any trouble of this sort before, Lopez was finally advised by the judge to serve a week in jail until the probation officer investigated his past record. Lopez claimed that he was drunk at the time.

PLAN FAREWELL FETE FOR REV. W. ALEXANDER

Friends of Rev. W. Floyd Alexander will gather Sunday evening at the Albany Baptist Church to hear his last sermon at the local institution and to bid him farewell and success in his new pastorate in Los Angeles where he will take up his duties next week-end.

Following his sermon, "God Be With You," church leaders and the many friends of the departing minister will present a program to show appreciation for the splendid progress his effort and leadership have brought about during his stay here.

The present modern church at Key Route Boulevard and Portland Avenue, occupied since September 6, 1936, represents a long and arduous campaign waged by Rev. Alexander and his followers to provide up-to-date facilities for themselves.

With its completion at that date, the congregation was assured of a meeting place with the latest equipment in the East Bay, as has been proudly announced.

In the morning service the pastor will deliver an address on "We Face the Future." At the conclusion of the evening service an informal gathering will be held to wish Rev. and Mrs. Alexander good fortune in their new home. All friends in this district are invited to be present.

Albany Ready For Traffic Safety "Day"

Street Parade Will Show Results of Carelessness

GRIM FLOATS

Merchants Cooperate To Aid Success of Event

Albany citizens will witness their first "Safety Day" tomorrow as the local Traffic Safety Commission, aided by City departments and merchants, will present a program designed to drive home the all-important idea that "careless driving does not pay."

Mayor C. C. Yenne, endorsing the plan wholeheartedly, has made the following proclamation:

"I hereby proclaim Saturday, July 10, as 'Albany Traffic Safety Day.' Traffic education is the main objective of this campaign to bring us all to a more complete understanding of the great hazards that confront every man, woman and child when on our streets, whether as a pedestrian or as the operator of a motor vehicle.

"Let us lend our every effort to prevent, as far as is humanly possible, our citizens' names from appearing on the traffic obituary column, and to see that we, ourselves, do not add to that list.

"I urge the dissemination of traffic rules and the formulation of good traffic habits that we may protect life, limb and property.

"Let the citizens of Albany do their part by joining with the Albany Traffic Commission, along with those of other cities, to eliminate human suffering, that every person will realize the necessity of traffic safety, and so that we may be proud of our City in this great work of human endeavor to lessen the carnage on our streets and highways."

BIG STREET PARADE

Believing that a picture is worth a thousand words, as the saying goes, the commission is seeking the cooperation of every merchant and individual in Albany to present a parade of striking floats and exhibits.

This event is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m. and will portray the dreadful results of traffic carelessness in float and in slogan. The procession is to start at Brighton and San Pablo Avenues, will move south to Marin Avenue; thence east to Ventura Avenue, north to Solano and west on Solano to Cornell School.

At the latter place the parade will disband and a program of entertainment is to be presented on the grandstand which is being erected. This is to be the only "light" touch in the program and will feature many interesting acts and numbers.

Other plans call for the placing of "wrecks" at corners on Solano and San Pablo Avenues. Realistic dummies are being prepared by the Recreation Department to portray the "victims."

Groups COOPERATE

Fulllest cooperation by the Fire and Police Departments has been offered by Chiefs Carl Ahlgren and John Glavionovich, respectively.

Inasmuch as the national program of the American Legion includes traffic safety, Albany Post has readily announced its intention of taking part in the day's activities.

Although a complete list is not yet available, the following merchants have agreed to participate in the parade:

Wild West Market, James J. Ellis Company, Albany Auto Sales, Murphy Chevrolet Company, Dog House, House of Many Nations, Don's Market, Albany radio Shop, Villa's Market, Hill Lumber Company, Golden Gate Stucco Company, Wimpys, De Biasi's, The Albany, Moorburg Cafe, Shorty's and Albany Super Service Station.

In charge of parade arrangements are A. F. Lemes, J. C. Cappelmann and Bill Green.

Mrs. N. S. Dunlap and her two sons of 1608 Sonoma Avenue are spending two weeks at the Russian River. Mr. Dunlap is planning to join his family this week-end.

Merchants Drop Sunday Contest

Minus a number of their regular players who were away during the holiday, the Albany Merchants felt the sting of defeat last Sunday afternoon in a tilt with the California Yellowjackets at University Park. The final score was 8-2.

The game went into the ninth inning with the score at 4 to 2, at which time four errors by the locals tossed the affray to the visitors by a comfortable margin. Albany's hurling was capably handled by "Lefty" Rodriguez, who allowed but one earned run.

The Jackets declared a regular field day for themselves, scoring one home run and one triple. Pitcher King struck out nine men. Word that the local team has qualified for a place in the Oakland Tribune State tournament was received this week by Manager Jake Nora.

Treasure Island, site of the Golden Gate International Exposition, had a $333,000 nugget tossed into its bulging hope chest this week.

The third of a million dollar figure represents a spectacular exhibit plan signed by the General Electric Company—the largest single exhibit contract on the exposition records—and the company's subscription to the current finance campaign.

Signing of the contract by ranking General Electric Company and Exposition officials launched a program which will bring to San Francisco the newest scientific marvels of the firm's famed "House of Magic."

The exhibit was personally authorized by Gerard Swope, General Electric president, and Vice-Presidents E. O. Shreve, former San Franciscan, C. E. Wilson, and J. E. Kewley.

In contracting for the exhibit, the General Electric Company reaffirmed its faith in the Exposition

STATE FAIR GOES MODERN

California's leading industries are to be featured in a 10-day pageant at the California State Fair in Sacramento, September 3 to 12.

Each day of the fair will be devoted to either an industry or activity including Agriculture, Press, Churches, Fruit, Radio, Motion Picture, Manufacturing, Livestock, Mining, and Education.

Governor's Day, one of the traditions at the fair, has been changed from Thursday to Friday. The change breaks an 82-year-old custom and was necessary because Admission Day this year falls on Thursday.

An electrified sign was erected last week over the main entrance to the grounds. It is more than 40 feet long with block letters three feet high. The sign, carrying the name and date of the fair, was used for inaugurating the new slogan, "The fair has gone modern."

Carnival Offers

Big Attraction

Children are flocking to the miniature circus now appearing with the Golden State Shows on San Pablo Avenue near Marin, it is announced.

The carnival, here under the sponsorship of Albany Grove of the Druids, presents a complete display of thrilling rides, fascinating concessions and strange sideshow presentations of many curiosities and freaks gathered from all over the world.

A subsidiary of the famed Crafts' Shows, the outfit is making its first appearance in Albany and will be here until July 15.

One of the big thrills for the kiddies, the management discloses, is the trained rat that leaps through a fiery hoop from its perch 14 feet above the ground. This is said to be an act that has never before been presented.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dietsch of 813 Curtis Street will leave for a three week's vacation in the Yellowstone Park the third week in August. They have also made tentative plans for stapping at Salt Lake and the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, of 1553 Solano Avenue, enjoyed the recent holiday with friends on the Russian River.

Among the Albany Girl Scouts who are vacationing at Camp Far-Away-Mine, near Alta, California, are Jeanie Christiansen, Nadine Armstrong, Bonny Attawood, Mildred Visek and Betty Nunn.

THEATER HAS FIGHT FILMS NOW SHOWING

Led by the sensational films of the recent championship battle in which the world title was gained by Joe Louis the Negro battler, the Albany Theatre is now presenting a huge triple bill for the patrons of this district.

The remarkable headline feature shows the titular encounter in its exciting entirety, from the early onslaught of the former champion, James Braddock, until the dusky challenger's ferocious blows have sent him helpless to the rosin canvas. Braddock's praiseworthy attempt to stave off certain disaster are clearly shown in the presentation.

Unit No. 2 is "The King and the Chorus Girl," with Joan Blondell and Fernand Gravet, France's gift to America. The European star makes his debut in a swift and humorous romance as an ex-king who, having lost his throne and kingdom, turns to the gaieties of Paris. Then comes his rollicking, trouble-strewn and complex romance with an American chorus girl, played by Joan Blondell.

The third big item on the current bill is "Night Court," starring Ann Dvorak and John Litel. The story deals with the decline of an ex-district attorney who has been framed by political enemies until he turns up in night court as a drunken bum. Iried by this final disgrace, he turns on society and once more achieves a brilliant success, this time as criminal lawyer for the crooks who previously defeated him.

On Sunday and Monday the Albany presents Lee Tracy and Margot Graham in "Criminal Lawyer" and, by popular request, "Cimarron," with Richard Dix and Irene Dunne. A cartoon, news and pictorial complete the week-end program.

Now on their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wall of Mar Vista recently spent several days here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilson, 1047 Solano Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilson, of 1047 Solano Avenue, left yesterday on a two-week vacation trip in the Northwest.
